

ARCLIGHT INCREASES STAKE IN CALIFORNIA GAS STORAGE FACILITY

11/4/2002

BOSTON, MA (November 4, 2002) --

ArcLight Capital Partners, LLC announced today that its affiliate, ArcLight Energy Partners Fund I, LP, is now the owner of 100% of WHP Acquisition Company with the exit of Aquila, Inc. from the company. WHP Acquisition was an entity established by ArcLight and Aquila in 2001 to acquire the Lodi Gas Storage Facility in Lodi, California from Western Hub Properties, LLC.

Under the revised structure, and upon receipt of approval from the California Public Utilities Commission, ArcLight and Western Hub Properties would each become 50% owners of the Facility. The Facility is an operating, 12 billion cubic foot, high-performance depleted reservoir natural gas storage facility located approximately 35 miles south of Sacramento, and is connected to the PG&E backbone gas pipeline.

"The Lodi plant is a "state-of-the-art" gas storage facility that has exceeded our performance expectations in the short time it has been operational," said ArcLight Senior Partner Robb Turner. "We look forward to working with our partners, Haddington Ventures and JPMorgan Partners, to make Lodi one of the premier gas storage facilities in the country," Turner concluded.

ArcLight Capital Partners, LLC is a Boston based private equity firm. It manages ArcLight Energy Partners Fund I, L.P., a $950 million fund established to capitalize on attractive investment opportunities in the rapidly evolving power, utility, and energy industry.
